Library still closed but staff offering services to patrons

Hoopeston Public Library's building is still closed to the public due to the Covid-19 shutdown, but additional services are being offered to the community. Copying and faxing are now available. Patrons must call the library at 217-283-6711, to arrange a time to drop off their materials. Staff will call when items are ready and patrons may arrange a time to pick up and pay at curbside. Regular copy and fax prices apply. Hoopeston residents who want to obtain a library card, or those who need to renew or update their card, may also call the library for phone assistance. Photo ID and proof of local address are required to obtain a new library card. Patrons who want to use one of HPL's three free digital online libraries can receive assistance with set-up of their smartphone, Kindle, I-pad or other tablet. Call to schedule an in-person socially distant appointment or to arrange a drop-off appointment. HPL continues to offer phone checkout of materials from the local collection. Patrons may call the library to select items, and then a pickup time will be scheduled and staff will provide no-contact curbside delivery. Returns can be placed in the outside drop box or call to schedule curbside return. Patrons can browse the local collection with the Polaris Share link at www.hooplib.org. Hours are 10-6 Monday-Friday; and 10-3 Saturdays.
