Remembering, honoring

From the Blotter

A 63-year-old Hoopeston man reported at 4:49 p.m. Sunday that someone trespassed on and damaged his property in the 300 block of North Eighth Ave. Police are investigating.

A 16-year-old Hoopeston girl was charged with possession of a stolen vehicle and no valid driver's license after a 55-year-old Hoopeston woman reported a stolen vehicle at 1:08 a.m. Monday.

Stolen from the 900 block of East McNeil, police found the vehicle a couple of blocks away with the girl inside.

A computer check showed she had an instructional permit only.

The girl was taken to the Juvenile Detention Center in Danville.

Police are investigating a hit-and-run accident reported at 8:01 p.m. Monday at West Main and South Seventh Ave.

Police said Israel Green, 31, of Hoopeston, in a 1998 Buick Lesabre, was eastbound on Main when an unknown person driving westbound made a sudden turn onto South Seventh Ave., striking Green's vehicle.

The driver left the scene before speaking with police.

No injuries were reported and the accident remains under investigation.

City history to be focus of Floral Hill sesquicentennial walks

What’s a sesquicentennial for if not to celebrate a town’s history?

Much of Hoopeston’s history is represented at Floral Hill Cemetery, which will be the site of history walks on June 5 and 12.

Hosts Tom Sweeney and Marilyn Tyler will cover a different topic in each segment. Each program will take approximately one hour. Masks are required and social distancing will be observed.

The first walk will be held at 10 a.m. June 5 and will focus on “Who’s Who of Early Hoopeston. At 3 p.m., the walk will look at “Hoopeston Patriots.” “Women of Hoopeston” is the theme of the first cemetery history walk on June 10. It will begin at 10 a.m., followed at 3 p.m. by a walk focusing on “Hoopeston Lore.”

Donations will be accepted. In case of inclement weather, the event will be canceled, not rescheduled.
