Vermilion Advantage to host after-hours at 112 next week

112 Wine and Coffee Shoppe will host a business after hours from 5-7 p.m. Thursday, July 22, in conjunction with Vermilion Advantage and Illinois Small Business Development Center.

Those attending will be able to sample an assortment of beer, wine and appetizers from the 112 kitchen - at 112 E. Main, Hoopeston - for $5 cash at the door.

Not only will Hoopeston's newest restaurant be on display, but so will Vermilion Advantage's new Community Development Coordinator, Nicole Van Hyfte.

A Catlin native, Van Hyfte and her husband, Andy, moved to Hoopeston more than three years ago. Between them, they have four daughters.

Van Hyfte joined Vermilion Advantage in April. In her position, she will work with rural communities in the county. "I know that Danville is the main focus a lot of the time because it is the economic driving force of our area, however, I feel like a lot of our smaller communities have not received the attention they deserve," she said. As a Hoopeston resident, "I know there are some pretty amazing business owners and entrepreneurs in the area and I believe they deserve to be highlighted."

Van Hyfte brings varied work experience to her new post. A former radio host and news anchor for Neuhoof Media, she taught music at Bismarck Grade School. She also has previous human resources and finances experience and from 2015-17, had a popular blog focusing on "the positive and passionate people and things that happen in Vermilion County."

What she has learned in those posts will help with her duties now, which will include grant application assistance, commercial and industrial property listings and economic development assistance and outreach, along with promoting rural communities. She will also be involved in restarting the Young Professionals Network in August.

Those who plan to attend the after-hours are asked to RSVP to Van Hyfte for food purposes, although it is not required. She may be reached at nvanhyfte@vermilionadvantage.com or (217) 442-6201.
