From the Blotter

No tickets or injuries were reported in an accident at 5:37 p.m. Tuesday in the 200 block of North Market. Police said Phillip M. Black, 54, of Rossville, in a 2015 Mercedes, backed from a parking space into a 2011 Chevrolet Silverado, parked by Daniel Colunga, of Hoopeston.

Police are checking into a report made at 7:48 a.m. Wednesday by a City of Hoopeston Parks Department employee.

The worker told police that damage had been done to the concessions area.

The report of criminal damage to state supported property is under investigation.

 a unique candy and soda shop that also offers other snacks, such as different flavors of chips, jerky and more.

The building, at 218 E. Main, is one of the historic buildings in downtown Hoopeston. Built in approximately 1942, it has had a variety of businesses at the location. Prior to Main Street Parlor, the structure was home to the former Polson Insurance Agency.

The Thomases have renovated the front part of Main Street Parlor and plan to continue remodeling the rest of the building for the enjoyment of their customers.

Along with their work on the candy store, the Thomas family have been instrumental in much of the Lorraine Theatre restoration project.
