From the Blotter

Marcos L. Ramirez, 33, of Hoopeston, was arrested after police were dispatched at 6:01 p.m. Sunday to the area of South Fifth St. and East Main for someone driving erratically.

Police located the vehicle and arrested Ramirez on preliminary charges of no valid drivers license, failure to report accident to police authority, driving under the influence - alcohol, illegal transportation of alcohol, two counts of threatening public official and resisting/obstructing a peace officer.

Ramirez was taken to the police station to be processed and later taken to the Public Safety Building in Danville to await arraignment.

A New Holland tractor and a flag-waving wagon dominates a smaller Case IH loader Tuesday in the Hoopeston Area High School parking lot. Students in the school's Future Farmers of America program were encouraged to drive farm equipment to school Tuesday as part of National FFA week. Attire changes are also part of the celebration, with Tuesday being Farmer's Day Off, with students allowed to wear pajamas. Wednesday is hunting season/camo/country day, followed on Thursday by Ag Class Color Day, which includes green for "into ag" gray for vet science, pink for horticulture, red for ag mechanics and blue for ag science. Friday is Official Dress Day, wearing FFA colors of blue and gold.
