Keep Believing in Tomorrow

I have a small office/bedroom where I write letters to friends and family and Bertha's Corner. It's here I find myself thinking about all that I have to do tomorrow. I have a list, without which I would be lost. When I was a young girl, my mother taught me the importance of a list of things to do tomorrow. As a teen, tomorrow was all about fun, seeing my boyfriend, planning a party or deciding what dress to wear to Prom. I never thought about tomorrow. I was too busy being a teenager. You know how that is! Phone calls, shopping, homework maybe and dating and more phone calls...

Have you made plans for tomorrow? Maybe it's grocery shopping, housecleaning, calling friends or writing letters. Plan to do the things that bring you joy! Too often, we do too much stuff that does not matter, instead of joyful things that make us happy.

Sometimes tomorrow seems far away, Like saying, "Tomorrow will be a better day to take care of that problem."

We all believe tomorrow will come, and it usually does, so you ask. "why believe in tomorrow? If it's going to come anyway, why believe? Because you really have control over tomorrow. I am a great believer in tomorrow, it's just waiting for me. Each of us have a tomorrow to be part of and look forward to. Do not waste your tomorrow!

What is your tomorrow like? For me, it's being with someone who cares for me. It's calling a friend or two just to visit. It's making plans and that list I told you about! When we keep believing that a good tomorrow is coming, what joy fills our heart! Don't let everyday problems blur your vision of tomorrow! There is nothing that can replace a belief in tomorrow!

There are times when we look back and wonder how did I get here and how do I move on? It is then that you must believe that each day makes up your tomorrow. You are important, you matter to this world. There is no one in the world like you - how awesome is that? How awesome is the fact, that we can believe in tomorrow?

I am always excited for my tomorrow. Let's make tomorrow the best; I'm on it with you!
