He talks on and on and on! Aunt Mina, he is well versed in the science of hypnosis—I fancy the power he must have over inmates. Yes, there is someone else. Please don't laugh at me. I can't bear it...Everything passing away from me. My body floats in the air. A part of my life ebbs away. I can't tell you. I'm not sure it was real?"

Multi Agency to host free Youth Mental Health First Aid course

Hoopeston Multi Agency will host a free Youth Mental Health First Aid later this month.

Beth Bray Knecht will teach the course July 24 and 30 at the Multi Agency, 206 S. First Ave. Participants must attend both sessions to be certified and receive the free manual.

A young person you know could be experiencing a mental health challenge or crisis. You can help them.

You are more likely to encounter someone - friend, family member, student, neighbor, or member of the community - in an emotional or mental crisis than someone having a heart attack. Youth Mental Health First Aid teaches a 5-step action plan to offer initial help to young people showing signs of a mental illness or in a crisis, and connect them with the appropriate professional, peer, social, or self-help care.

Anyone can take the 8-hour Youth Mental Health First Aid course, it is for adults who work with or know young people, ages 12-18 - teachers, coaches, school staff, and leaders of faith communities, parents, grandparents, aunts / uncles, social workers, and other caring citizens.

Anyone interested in taking the course may email Knecht at ebass@auntmarthas.org and include their name, phone number, email address, occupation and a brief description why they want to take the course. Those without email may phone Knecht at (217) 516-2298.

The program is offered through Aunt Martha's Health and Wellness of Danville.
